

The Bookkeeper's Corner

JUNE 2024

Father's Day is just around the corner...

*Customize this section to match your brand voice. Here's an example: And if your dad is anything like mine, he's known for manning the grill every weekend in the summer, killing any bugs you're too scared to touch, and teaching invaluable life lessons (usually by comparing it to football).*

But, as much as we look up to them, there's one thing dads are notorious for having: a boring, old accountant.

Here's why I'm NOT like your dad's accountant:

I can work with you WHEREVER you are. Say goodbye to bringing in your shoebox of receipts, describe your secure document storage system here. You can meet with a doctor online, why not your accountant too?

I'm passionate about helping your understand your finances. I don't expect you to understand complex accounting jargon. I'll break down your finances in simple terms so that you can fully understand what's going on!

I care about your whole financial picture. Whether you're focused on big goals for your business, building generational wealth, or simply staying on top of tax deadlines, I care about every aspect of your financial health.

This Father's Day, give your dad the gift of knowing that your finances are taken care of by a pro! 😊

Guide to Estimated Taxes

Father's Day isn't the only big thing going on this month, you've also got estimated taxes due on June 17th!

If you're self-employed, an independent contractor, a business owner, a landlord, or do anything else where you earn taxable income that isn't subject to withholdings, you probably need to have this deadline on your calendar.

If you've got questions like:

- Do I owe estimated taxes?
- When are estimated taxes due?
- How should I pay my estimated taxes?
- How can I avoid estimated tax penalties?

You need to read this freebie! Respond to this email with "Estimated Taxes" and I'll send you a copy.

Here's how I can help: Customize this section with the services you offer surrounding estimated taxes. For tax accountants, do you provide mid-year estimates or payment vouchers? For bookkeepers, do you provide clean-ups or monthly bookkeeping services to help your clients estimate their tax liabilities? Make sure to include what actions your potential client needs to take to start this process.

Want more useful freebies like this? Click on the Resources tab on my website to check out the full library of my helpful guides! Have a friend who could benefit from the guides in my monthly newsletter? Forward this email to them (it'll help me out too!).

Tamra Halley

